GWC Scores: Get: 3/3 | Want: 3/3 | Capacity: 3/3
Category: Perfect Pass

What We Liked Most About You

Exceptional GWC performance with crystal-clear understanding of the role. Genuine enthusiasm shone through in every conversation. Strong capacity to execute across technical and strategic dimensions.

Where We Found Ourselves Sitting With Questions

Timing and bandwidth on our end. Team structure is still settling. While skills are exactly what we'd want, we're concerned we couldn't give the mentorship deserved. Honest assessment of team constraints.

What We Think You Should Do Next

Keep doing the work that excites you. In 3-6 months, we'd love to revisit this conversation. Door remains open.

GWC Scores:	Get: 2/3 Want: 1/3 Capacity: 3/3
Category:	Low Want It

What We Liked Most About You

Solid technical foundation. Methodical approach to assessment. Openness and self-awareness throughout process. Genuine energy and ambition about building skills.

Where We Found Ourselves Sitting With Questions

Alignment between what you want and what this position offers wasn't quite clicking. Responses on 'Want It' suggested hesitation about investing energy in this particular space. Best matches need mutual excitement.

What We Think You Should Do Next

Clarify what you're genuinely excited about. What problems do you want to solve? Seek opportunities aligned with that clarity. Door remains open if interests shift.

GWC Scores: Get: 2/3 | Want: 2/3 | Capacity: 2/3
Category: Mixed Gaps

What We Liked Most About You

Real thoughtfulness in understanding the role. Solid technical capabilities and structure in thinking. Flexibility and openness—willing to stretch and learn. Growth mindset is genuine strength.

Where We Found Ourselves Sitting With Questions

While you have real capability, ground to cover across all three GWC dimensions. Understanding, enthusiasm, and delivery confidence all need more development for this role. Not at place where you can hit ground running with full independence.

What We Think You Should Do Next

Seek opportunities where you deepen technical-strategic integration. Work on projects showing product-user-engineering connection. Once foundation built, we'd welcome another conversation. Not a 'no'—more a 'not yet'.

Maryam Rafaqat

GWC Scores: Get: 1/3 | Want: 1/3 | Capacity: 3/3
Category: Low Understanding

What We Liked Most About You

Genuine interest and energy in exploring this opportunity. Capacity to learn and adapt—flexibility and willingness to think through problems from different angles. Intellectual honesty and self-awareness.

Where We Found Ourselves Sitting With Questions

Full complexity of role—weaving technical execution with strategic thinking and organizational impact—wasn't crystallizing yet. 'Get It' dimension suggests deeper structure of role needs clarity. Domain clarity needed for this position.

What We Think You Should Do Next

Spend intentional time deepening understanding of how technical work connects to strategy and impact. Work on projects showing that connection. Read widely. Find mentors. This foundation will set you up for faster growth.

Sultan Muhammad Hamad Sheharyar

GWC Scores:	Get: 0/3 Want: 1/3 Capacity: 1/3
Category:	Significant Gaps

What We Liked Most About You

Willingness to step into challenging assessment. Genuine openness to try something new despite it being outside comfort zone—growth-oriented mindset. Brought authentic self to process without pretense.

Where We Found Ourselves Sitting With Questions

Gaps across all three dimensions we evaluate—understanding role requirements, genuine enthusiasm for work, confidence in execution. This role is specialized fit requiring strong understanding, passion, and capability. Gaps on all fronts.

What We Think You Should Do Next

Take time to explore what kind of work genuinely excites you. Seek opportunities naturally aligned with where you are now. Build deeper understanding and confidence over time at sustainable pace.
